

Simplified scheme of the major terrestrial biomes, arranged along gradients of increasing aridity at different latitudes, illustrating the dominant influence of moisture and temperature on the structure of plant communities.