Course Description

This course will introduce students to urban geography – a part of geography concerned with processes of urbanization and their urban systems dynamics.

Course Overview

Today, most people on Earth live in cities or, in other words, humanity is predominantly urban. From the first urban settlements to contemporary global urban centers some of which reaching dozens of millions of residents, cities have always provided people with distinct and often contradictory experiences. Cities are sites where economic activities and economic inequality are concentrated to the largest degree; they are centers of great intermixing of people, infrastructure, urban culture, and lifestyles; and yet urban spaces are segregated by class, ethnicity, race, and sexuality. After becoming familiar with the historical development of urban systems and cities with a main (but not a sole) focus on Western cities, we will examine different aspects of urban economic and social geographies in order to gain insights into workings of modern cities. We will end the semester examining cities are our best hope for worldwide climate justice.

Ultimately, the course is not just about learning facts about cities but also (perhaps more) about understanding and critically examining the processes that shape and change the world. Having a broad and integrative approach to understanding cultural, economic, political and environmental phenomena will in turn allow for students to develop the critical thinking and reflective skepticism that can lead to environmental and social sustainability.

Course Objectives / Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)

The course is designed to introduce learners to the regions of our shared planet from a geographical perspective. At the end of the course, learners will be able to

1. Acquire basic knowledge of historical and contemporary urban dynamics as well as how and why social, gendered, ethnic, and economic spaces within cities are differentiated.
2. Describe fundamental concepts related to urban geography and its relationship with other aspects of human experience.
3. Develop skills for critical thinking about urban processes that are important for understanding the complexity of today's cities
4. Analyze and discuss key issues in the contemporary city in its varied configurations and socio-economic patterns around the world.

Required Texts and Materials

1. David H. Kaplan and Stephen Holloway, Urban Geography, 3rd Edition, Wiley, 2014, ISBN 978-1118573853. The book is available in eBook and paperback formats. It is also available as a rental from Amazon
2. Pre-recorded lectures will be found on Blackboard.
3. Additional required readings such as journal/newspaper articles will be posted on Blackboard. On occasion the lectures may be supplemented with video or web links.

Syllabus Change Policy

The standards and requirements set forth in this syllabus may be modified at any time by the course instructor. Notice of such changes will be by announcement in class AND on Blackboard.

Hunter College Policy on Academic Honesty

Hunter College regards acts of academic dishonesty (e.g., plagiarism, cheating on examinations, obtaining unfair advantage, and falsification of records and official documents) as serious offenses against the values of intellectual honesty. The College is committed to enforcing CUNY Policy on Academic Integrity and will pursue cases of academic dishonesty according to the Hunter College Academic Integrity Procedures. Plagiarism, dishonest, or cheating in any portion of the work required for this course will be punished to the full extent allowed according to Hunter College regulations.

Students with Disabilities

In compliance with the American Disability Act of 1990 (ADA) and with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Hunter College is committed to ensuring educational parity and accommodations for all students with documented disabilities and/or medical conditions. It is recommended that all students with documented disabilities (Emotional, Medical, Physical, and/or Learning) consult the Office of AccessABILITY, located in Room E1214B, to secure necessary academic accommodations. For further information and assistance, please call: (212) 772- 4857 or (212) 650-3230. If you need disability-related accommodations for your work in this course, please let me know.

Basis for Overall Semester Grade.

Assessment		Weight
Zoom Participation and Deliberations		20%
Map quizzes	(5 @ 2% each)	10
Concept Quizzes	(5 @ 2% each)	10
Reflection Papers	(5 @ 10% each)	50
Final Exam	(10%)	10
TOTAL		100%

Most of your semester grade will depend on you dedicating at least 2-4 hours per week preparing for the assignments and reading the course text and supplemental material. Other specifics as to the nature of the assignments will be explained on Blackboard for each assignment. No late assignments will be accepted past the due date. No grades of "incomplete" or IN will be given except in cases of extreme circumstances. A CR/NC grading option is available as per Hunter College guidelines.

The Hunter College grading system is used in this course:

Course Policies: Student Expectations

1. Much of the course will be held asynchronously. Lecture material will consist of recorded lectures compiled into modules that correspond to the textbook chapters.
2. You will be required to meet synchronously FOUR TIMES A WEEK, at the beginning of each session for a minimum of 60 minutes. We will meet on Thursdays for the FULL 113-minute session.
We meet here: <https://huntercollege.zoom.us/j/97656713732>
  - Mondays (except first): We will discuss our reflection papers
  - Tuesdays: We will discuss the Monday prompt (on Blackboard)
  - Wednesdays: We will discuss our ideas for the reflection papers
  - Thursdays: We will discuss our Wednesday prompt and the concepts learned during the week
3. Each module will have three sets of assignments: post-module quiz (multiple choice), a map quiz (direct matching) and a Reflection Paper.
4. The quizzes will go live on Blackboard on Thursdays. They are meant to assess your learning of the recorded videos and the course text. They will be taken down one week after the module ends.
5. The map quizzes will go live after Module 2 ends.
6. There will be FIVE 800-word reflection papers assigned this semester.
7. I will provide extra credit assignments for students that will have difficulty making the Zoom Discussions. The weight of the combined extra credit assignments is equal in weight to the Zoom Deliberations. Please see the section on Blackboard labeled "Phantom Zone."
8. Should you need to contact me, please email me at rcampos@hunter.cuny.edu, with GEOG 243 in subject line and sign your name as it appears in CUNYFirst. I will do my best to respond within 4 hours, except after 8 pm and the weekends, when I might take longer.
9. All students MUST complete ALL map quizzes in order to pass the course.
10. Please follow these links for discussion board etiquette and guidelines
